Review draft
Not yet approved for use

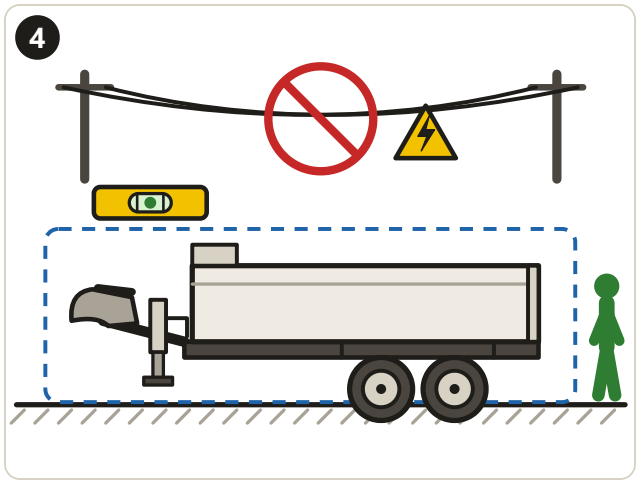

1 Couple and lock
2-5/16 in ball rated 14,000 lb. Seat, latch, pin. Lift-test 1 inch, then raise the jack.

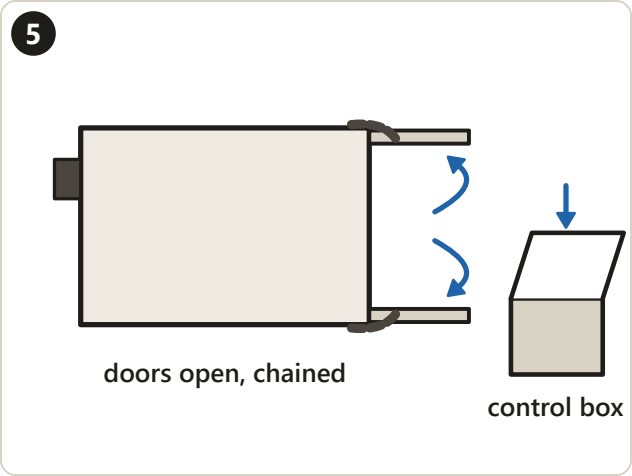

2 Chains and breakaway
Chains crossed under the coupler. Breakaway cable to the truck, not the chains. Pull-test, pin straight back in.

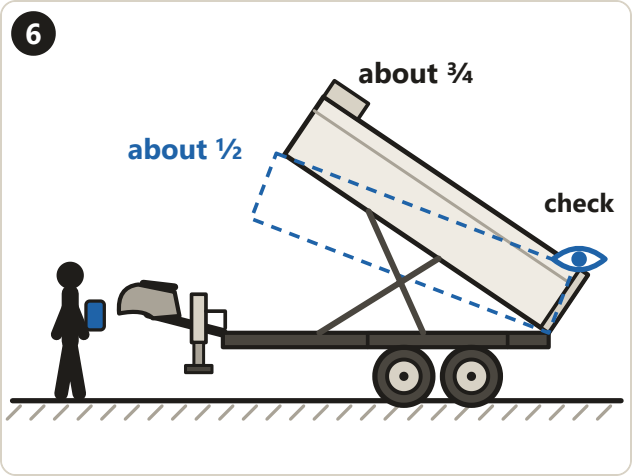

3 Lights and brakes
Plug in the 7-way. Check tail, brake and turn lights. Under 5 mph, apply the brake controller and feel the brakes.

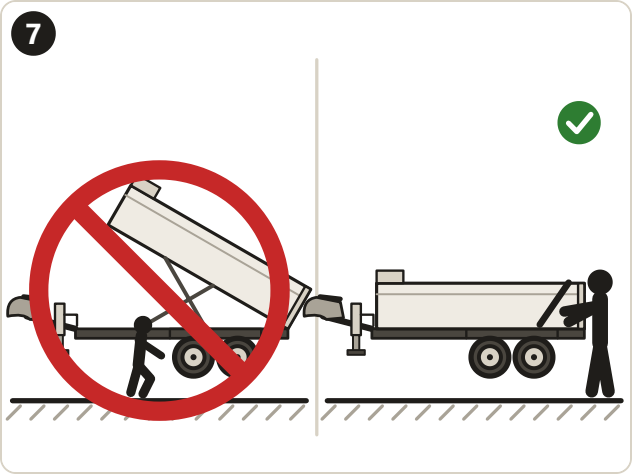

4 Before you dump
Level, firm ground. Everyone clear. Look up: no power lines.

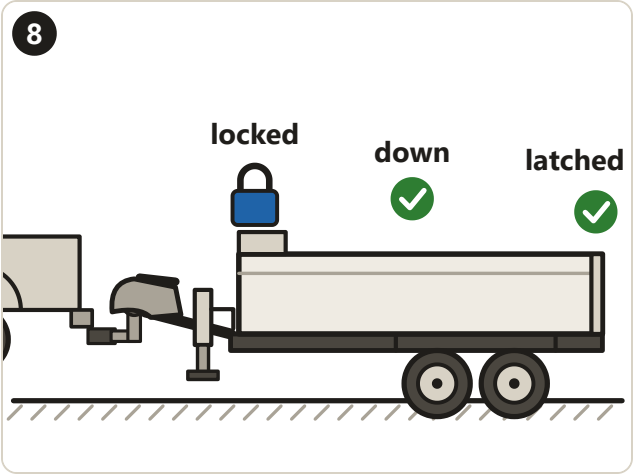

5 Doors open and chained
Swing the rear doors open and chain them to the sides. Open the control box.

6 Raise in stages
Stand clear. UP to about half, check behind. Then about three-quarters, check again. Stay at the controls.

7 Stuck load: lower first
Load stuck? Don't jerk it or brake hard. Lower the body, then free it by hand. Never go under a raised body.

8 Down, latched, locked
Body fully down. Doors latched. Controls locked. Then drive.

NEVER

- Never go under a raised dump body. The body prop is for maintenance and holds an empty body only.
- If the hoist will not lift the load, unload some by hand. Never help the hoist with a jack, crane or other machine.
- Do not fully raise a loaded body: the tow vehicle's rear wheels can lose traction.
- A raised body near power lines can electrocute without touching them. Check overhead before raising.
- Do not move the trailer until the coupler is locked, the chains and breakaway cable are attached and the jack is fully raised.
- Never carry people, or flammable, explosive or poisonous materials.
- 60 mph is the maximum recommended towing speed, and only in ideal conditions.
